

GLOBAL RECONNAISSANCE SOLUTIONS, LLC

Mission Statement

Global Reconnaissance Solutions, LLC (GRS) is an innovative company whose targeted markets are US-based companies (and partnerships/proprietaryships), government agencies and nonprofits operating along the Baltimore-Washington corridor doing business outside of the United States. More specifically, the mission of GRS is to provide consultation services in addition to protective, functional-area training (general studies, tradecraft, communications, and emergency drills) to individuals and teams of US-based organizations exploring business opportunities in permissive and semi-permissive environments overseas (outside of the United States). The focus is individuals and teams on fact-finding missions (reconnaissance) or individuals and teams working semi-permanently outside of the United States. Unlike a majority of executive protective services training which markets to top-tier executives, GRS is looking to train mid-level professionals and employees (in small groups) to make them "hard targets" for terrorists, insurgents and criminals that are interested in attacking US citizens outside of this country. Training is conveniently conducted at your business location (usually over a four day period). Classes can be tailored to your needs; refer to the "Pillars" link for additional information.

Web: www.globalreconnaissance.com

Email: email@globalreconnaissance.com

Phone: 443-835-5592

Vision

To be the industry's leader for low cost consultation and training solutions designed to make individuals and teams "hard targets" in the contemporary terrorism/insurgent/crime/high risk kidnaping environments.

Message from the president

Today, we find ourselves more culturally divided than ever before. The world in which we live is filled with many challenges and often times hear of Americans being exposed to dangers more so than any other time in our history. If you conduct business overseas, are exploring business overseas or are looking to expand internationally, then you should ask yourself two basic questions. The first question is, do you feel responsible for ensuring that your employees have a basic level of training and understanding to make them a hard target for terrorists, insurgents, kidnapers and criminals? Secondly, should something happen to one of your employees, do you want to have the peace of mind to inform the spouse/family of your employee that was hurt or killed that you did something to help ensure their success? If the answer to both of these questions is "yes" than I invite you to look at what Global Reconnaissance Solutions, LLC has to offer.

Training (Pillars) – four days

- General Studies
 - Tradecraft
 - Communications
 - Emergency Drills (Principles)
- Visit our web at to learn more:
www.globalreconnaissance.com to learn more.

Biography

John Weaver has served as an officer in the United States Army and has over 20+ years of experience. Since entering active duty, he has lived and worked on four continents and in 19 countries spending nearly eight years overseas (on behalf of the US government). His experience includes multiple combat deployments, peace enforcement, peacekeeping and humanitarian support in both conventional and unconventional/non-traditional units. Most recently, John has trained and certified multinational NATO reconnaissance teams based in The Netherlands, Germany and Spain for worldwide deployment in full spectrum mission sets. He has also personally led several reconnaissance missions throughout Europe, the Middle East and Asia (including multiple missions in Afghanistan); none of his team members have ever been injured or killed in the line of duty. The classes provided by Global Reconnaissance Solutions have been adapted to ensure relevancy to the civilian sector using John's extensive experience.

Pricing

1. BoilerPlate (4 days)
-$1,999 per person
-$3,499 for three employees
-$7,499 for ten employees
2. Individual Classes: $299
3. Corporate Forward Element training and consultation: $999
- *Prices do not include tax.
4. Consultation: contact us for a quote.

Disclaimer. Working outside of the United States can be inherently dangerous. Use of the tactics, techniques and procedures taught by Global Reconnaissance Solutions, LLC are no guarantee for success. Course content is based on generally accepted practices that have been used by various government organizations and militaries throughout the world to help safeguard their members working in challenging and dangerous environments. That stated, implementation of these tactics, techniques and procedures could result in injury and or death. Use them at your own risk.